wavelengths - all of which can be used on your face, neck, and body. Each mode of treatment targets a different set of concerns, allowing you to customize your LED light therapy experience to meet your specific needs. One of the most innovative features of Cosmo is its flash mode, which uses Al technology to analyze your skin while you use the device and adjust the wavelength of the light during your treatment. This ensures that you get the most effective treatment possible, tailored to your skin's unique needs. Designed by plastic surgeons and dermatologists in Germany, Cosmo incorporates multiple technologies into one treatment to target a wide array of concerns so you can experience the benefits of LED light therapy from the comfort of your own home.

infectious skin disease, either do not use or consult with your doctor before use.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Light therapy is a non-invasive treatment that utilizes light at precise wavelengths to penetrate the skin's surface without causing any damage. Light therapy was originally developed by NASA for astronauts who could become injured or ill on long-term space missions, is used today as a safe and natural method of treatment for a variety of skin and medical conditions. The light stimulates natural chemical reactions in the skin cells, triggering the rejuvenation and healing processes. Developed by leading plastic surgeons and dermatologists, Cosmo is a home-use light device that effectively addresses a plethora of various skin concerns via its 5 available modes of treatment and 1 add-on setting:

RED LIGHT SETTING

The red light setting is designed to reduce signs of aging. From the age of 22 onwards, our skin loses between 1-2% of its collagen every year. Collagen plays a critical role as the "glue" between our skin layers, imparting a plump appearance to our skin. As the collagen dwindles, our skin becomes drier and less supple, leading to the emergence of visible lines and wrinkles on the surface of the skin. Furthermore, factors like sleep deprivation, dehydration, sun exposure, and smoking can exacerbate these aging effects. The red light setting is designed to assist the reproduction of cells, collagen, and fiber and reaches the hypodermis level, the deepest and thickest layer of the skin. Consistent use of healthy lifestyle choices and red light LED treatment can effectively halt the reduction of collagen as we age and in some cases, even boost the body's natural collagen production. Therefore, it's crucial to start utilizing red LED light therapy as early as possible.

BLUE LIGHT SETTING

The blue light setting is designed to improve skin texture and reduce sebaceous hyperplasia (enlarged oil glands). It can help with reducing the appearance of actinic keratoses (sun spots), acne, and even acne scarring. This treatment can be used in tandem with other products as part of an acne treatment plan. In addition to its cosmetic benefits, blue light therapy has been shown to promote the synthesis of protein and bone collagen, and it can also help with whitening skin and teeth. Blue light therapy is also effective in managing neonatal jaundice, skin conditions such as allergy-based and oily skin, and the relaxation of nerves. It can also provide pain relief and is used for the clinical treatment of goiter, chronic heart disease, insomnia, and menopausal syndrome.

GREEN LIGHT SETTING

The green light setting is designed to stimulate collagen production, reduce inflammation, and improve energy levels. In addition to its cosmetic benefits, green light therapy has been used clinically to treat various health conditions. It has been shown to be effective in improving asthma symptoms, relieving climacteric syndrome, and treating nerve numbness and kidney diseases. It has also been used to manage diabetes and digestive tract diseases, making it a valuable treatment option for those seeking to improve their overall health.

YELLOW LIGHT SETTING

The yellow light setting is designed to treat skin redness and flushing, rosacea, UV radiation damage and reduce the appearance of telangiectasias (ruptured blood vessels) on the nose and face.

CYCLE SETTING

The cycle setting is designed to provide the ultimate in-skin treatment by combining all four lights (blue, red, green, and yellow) to rejuvenate and heal all skin tissues. This is a fantastic option for those wanting to target multiple concerns in a single treatment and improve general health and well-being. This mode is set automatically to 30 minutes, with adjustable timing to what you wish or your skin specialist recommends.

FLASH SETTING

The flash setting is a revolutionary AI feature that you can add on to all available treatments. This innovative setting utilizes light pulses to analyze your skin every 15 seconds, automatically adjusting the light wavelength throughout your treatment. This ensures that you receive a personalized treatment that responds to the current condition of your skin, making LED light therapy more effective and safer than ever before.

If you would like to take a more hands-on approach to your treatment, Cosmo allows you to manually adjust the wavelength of your treatment by adjusting the heat. This hands-on approach was once only available in clinics, but now you can have that same level of customization from the comfort of your own home. With this feature, you have the freedom to adjust the intensity and wavelength of your treatment to suit your unique needs.
